

What really amuses me is these characters who keep saying "how could such an enormous secret be kept." You will find that they no little about military security and do not realize that these people have high paying Government jobs and responsibilities which they would like to keep! In the second place there is no real secret. The only proof we do not have concerning the Roswell Incident is the testimony of witnesses that have not been found or have died since the incident, and the craft, bodies, and debris itself. Debris which was not part of any weatherballoon as Major Marcel will testify along with the support of other witnesses. To prove this has happened to the most skeptical minds we would have to break into the Foreign Technology Division at Wright Patterson or CIA Headquarters at Langley, Virginia. I do not advise we try this.

The problem as you realize is the need for a World Authority. But all major Governments are dedicated to a 'Nationalistic Viewpoint.' Mutual fears and ignorance of UFOs have created a major problem. The private UFO research organizations are alright if you want information but even if the Government were to hand over to them their mountains of classified UFO related material they would not be in a position of authority to create an official policy for dealing with the situation. We must persuade the officials who can make such policies to do so "before it is too late." It is obvious that we have to start and the Soviet Union will probably follow as example. We all want to know the who? what? and why? in relation to UFO activity. The Military has the best tracking equipment, scientists, and trained observers. They know what is happening, but they will not get the right answers if they continue to treat visitors with hostility. And at worse we may even provoke a more hostile reaction. They may be capable of doing as they please if they wanted too! After all you would not land on a primitive island if the natives threw rocks and spears at you!

Sincerely yours,
Brian Parks
