Dear Arthur,

My congratulations on your excellent brief which was submitted to the science policy committee, a dedicated effort and one you and your charming wife must be very proud of. To others like myself who are involved in this controversial project, truly an inspirational work.

I thank you for the copy on hand and knowing of a few offices that need such material, I will endeavour to obtain some copies locally to add fuel to the flame, so as to speak.

Your brief, I feel is like a wedge to pry open the door to public acknowledgement by government policy makers. Robert Stanbury in his newly appointed office is the man involved who will be responsible to make such an announcement, and in the near future too. Would it be an advantage to us, he being the M.P. for this riding?.

Enclosed is an article clipped from Mar. issue of Male magazine. Needless to say, the author has taken shall we say, artistic licence. Of course they have a story to sell.

The young lady on the back of page 36 is not, I repeat, is not the lady involved in the seduction incident that took place in South America.

I have given some thought to the idea of renting a public hall here in Toronto for a serious public debate, dealing primarily with public concept and what the future holds for them. Would you consider a visit to our fair city and give 15 or 20 min. oracular presentation of your involvement and personal views? This would also be an opportune time to promote your book, which I hold in the highest regard.

Please give this matter some thought as I'm anxious to hear your views and any suggestions you may have.

Give my regards to your family, good health to all,

Sincerely, Hank McKay

P.S. Forgive the typing errors, I'm learning the pick and peck method.
