Ken phoned last nite to say CARDE advise the object was from a Sorel blast furnace and a conglomerate of metals, apparently they shore pipes into them, cool them, drag them out on the ice and let them go where they will.

Sounds like a long tale. Ken is going to get closer to the mass and I could check out the Sorel end.

The photo will give you an idea of the tide flat, the two sand bags mark the spot CARDE picked it up from.

So the story goes, we will check this out further.

I am off tomorrow for Vancouver for a trip around the West and will be gone about 10 days.

Bill.
