Mr. Wilfred Eggleston,

Ottawa 1.

Dear Mr. Eggleston:

I wish to congratulate you on your article in Writer's Notebook, Flying Saucer Debate Continues, in today's Journal, as well as on the one which appeared on October 21, 1967.

In view of your open-mindedness on this matter, and your interest, I am sure you will find my recently-published book, Science, the Public and the UFO of interest. It is the first Canadian book on this matter and it examines the subject from an aspect somewhat different from other UFO books.

I sent an announcement in the form of a news release to the Journal in which a complimentary copy was offered for review purposes but they apparently were not interested in what I have to say. I am taking the liberty of sending you a copy of the book by separate mail, which you may feel free to either retain or throw away as you please, but I think you will find it interesting reading. I have attached a copy of my news release, which I sent to the Journal, just as a matter of interest.

Yours sincerely,

Arthur Bray
