

I should remind you that in the case of material from space such as moon rocks, meteorites, re-entry debris from spacecraft, there has been no difficulty experienced by competent scientists in recognizing its non-terrestrial nature and identifying it as different to terrestrial material.

Sincerely yours,

Peter M. Millman

PMM:njt

Peter M. Millman

cc: Dr. E. Smith
Mrs. C. Halford-Watkins

P.S.: I attach a letter from Dr. Smith dated October 6, 1969.