

INTRODUCTION

Everett Frederic Morrow was appointed Administrative Officer for the Special Projects Group on July 11, 1955.

The Special Projects Group consisted of special staffs appointed from time to time to advise the President and to coordinate activities which had previously been carried on by the departments and by interdepartmental committees. As Administrative Officer, Morrow was responsible for coordinating the internal management affairs for this Group. In addition, when Maxwell Kabb resigned from the White House Staff in 1958, Morrow assumed his duties of answering mail dealing with Civil rights. There was, however, no change in his title. Morrow resigned from his position on January 20, 1961.

The file consists of memoranda, press releases, background materials, printed materials, statistical material, correspondence, newspaper clippings, and other working materials. Although Morrow came to the White House in 1955, the files contain documents which precede his entry on duty by date of time. These are documents acquired by Morrow as background material. The subjects of this material cover the many facets of Morrow's housekeeping duties for the Group as well as his duties in connection with Civil Rights issues. No original over-all arrangement was apparent. The folders have been arranged alphabetically in three different sections.
