Dear Mr. Bray:

I am trying to get caught up on a backlog of mail and because your letter of November 30, 1970 didn't require an immediate answer, I am just getting to it at this time.

Incidentally, your most recent letter concerning a Canadian representative has been turned over to Mr. Greenwell for answering as that is his department.

We certainly would be very interested in doing further work on the "Leo Bourdels Iron Masks." Although I am familiar with this case, I do not know if I could lay my hands on it in our files. Would you be willing to forward background information?

I'll look forward to hearing from you at your early convenience.

Sincerely yours,

Carol E. Lorenzen
