Dear Bill:

About 6 weeks ago, I received the copy of your Australian UFO Review which I was very pleased to receive, and it was kind of you to send it. I read it with great interest and learned a lot from it. It is a fine magazine indeed, and all concerned with its publication deserve congratulations.

As I intend to pay you for the copy you sent, I suggest that the best way is for you to simply deduct one dollar from what you owe me ($22.90). By the way, Bill, I would appreciate it very much if I can settle this account as soon as possible. Quite a number of accounts (most much larger than yours) are long outstanding and it makes it difficult for me to repay the loan I obtained to get my book printed. I am selling the book at a small loss to myself as it is, as I never intended to make a profit, so any bad debts have to come out of my pocket, and not out of profits.

I was pleased to see that the AIAA has come out with a recommendation for further UFO research. It proves that official scientific interest is not dead, as many claim. There is still much interest here, and I have been busy on radio and TV, and addressing various groups.

You may be interested to know that I have now retired from the Navy and am now employed with the Canada Safety Council as Manager, Occupational Safety Division.

Our friend Earl Neff certainly stirred up a hornet's nest with his exposure of the chapter on UFOs in the USAF physics text in use at Colorado Springs. I was very fortunate in being able to obtain a copy of this from Earl - probably the only copy in Canada, and a valuable addition to my library.

Henry McKay of Toronto is presently conducting a night course on UFOs at Centennial College in Toronto. A worthwhile effort.

Please keep me up to date on happenings in Australia.

Sincerely,
