

Some 1979 comments about "Flying Saucers ARE Real" an illustrated lecture by California Nuclear Physicist-Lecturer Stanton T. Friedman

"Not to book 'Flying Saucers ARE Real' could be the biggest mistake activities people could make. In my 20 years of programming, I have finally met a person who is a true professional and at the same time a total joy to work with. Stan leaves nothing to chance: posters, PR, travel, technical etc. His rapport with the audience caused them to flock around him after the lecture and spend over 2 hours more with him. His coverage, knowledge of subject matter, concern for people and giving 110% of himself is more than any presenter could ask."

John Larsen, Dir., Campus Activities, SUNY A & T Coll., Alfred, New York 607-871-6326

"Thank you for the fantastic program. I am still receiving calls and comments on your talk and all have been most favorable. It was evident from the size of the crowd and their response that the program was an overwhelming success. It is so nice to host a program of such high caliber that people talk about it for weeks... It was both intellectually stimulating and entertaining at the same time." Louise Wine, Dir. Stu. Activ., Hagerstown JC, Hagerstown, MD 301-790-2800

"We are delighted with the enthusiastic response from our large audience to your provocative lecture. Also we very much appreciate your personal attention to all details; your work makes your appearance trouble free. Thank you, too, for your graciousness and patience during the eight separate interviews. Not only is your lecture, entertaining, it is also grounded in humanistic concerns. The scientific data is kept fresh and clear, easy for anyone to understand".

Steve Brannon, Dir. Humanities, Spartanburg Methodist Coll., Spartanburg, SC 803-576-9634

"How much I enjoyed your lecture. Our guests seemed to be fascinated with your subject matter and your vast knowledge of it. The slides boosted your credibility and people in the audience were very impressed." Ken Callender, Univ. Union, U. of S. Carolina, Sumter SC 803-775-6341

"Thank you for presenting a stimulating and thought provoking lecture and for all your assistance. The feedback has been most positive. Some questioned the need for a lecture on this topic, but after you left, 'Flying Saucers ARE Real' proved to be the basis for much conversation and thought." John Wilkes, U. of Guelph, Guelph, Ontario, CANADA (REPEAT) 519-824-4120

"Thank you for speaking at Western. Your presentation seemed to open a few eyes and I could tell that everyone was interested. Thank you for your patience in dealing with the 'noisy negativists' Your classroom visit encouraged a lot of people to come and see your slides and hear what you had to say." Beth Gordon, Univ. Stu. Council, U. of W. Ontario, London, Ontario, CANADA 519-679-6411

"We enjoyed having you here. Student reaction was favorable to your presentation. The dialogue following the presentation was very worthwhile and we have all been made to realize how important it is to be sure and document any such future sightings."

Norman J. Roy, Lecture Series, Andrews U., Berrien Springs, Michigan 616-471-7771

"Thank you for presenting an informative and entertaining program about Flying Saucers. We had a capacity audience and I was surprised to see so many people stay for two and one half hours asking question after question. Good luck with your upcoming movie."

Paul Drzewiecki, Stu. Services, Ohio U., Chillicothe, Ohio 614-775-9500

"We've received many fine comments about you and your lecture. It was definitely well received by students, faculty, and townspeople. I would like to personally thank you again for your consideration and the time you gave our university. I've enclosed articles from our student voice and the St. Paul Pioneer Press. The latter article made 1st page in the Wisconsin section! ... I'll be watching for your movie."

Diane LeBreck, Student Activ., U. of Wisconsin, River Falls, Wisconsin 715-425-3904

"I wish to express our appreciation for the fine lecture you gave. I believe the enthusiasm you generated was reflected in the large crowd you drew. In the days subsequent to your lecture I have had a chance to talk to many of the attendees. People were enlightened, challenged, and entertained. Thanks again for making our program a success."

King K. Culp, 2nd VP, Magnavox Company Management Club, Ft. Wayne, Indiana 219-482-4411

"Thanks again for your articulate and very interesting presentation. The subject drew more membership than we have experienced for many meetings. Approximately 440 were in attendance. Many stayed long after the meeting to listen to questions and answers which you did an excellent job of fielding." Dean Ladd, Pres., Lockheed Missiles Chpt. Nat. Mgmt. Association, Sunnyvale, CA
