Dear Mr. Bray:

Thank you for your letter of the 16th. If I had remembered that you forecast the probable conclusion of the Condon inquiry in the final pages of your book I would in all likelihood have quoted you. I can only plead that the literature on the subject is extensive and that I am only a dabbler in the subject. As an author myself I know how frustrating it is to have one's products met with stony indifference. As you know I am not a book reviewer in the formal sense and my references to books new and old is not methodical but whimsical. I have referred to your book for my own personal edification a number of times and though I do not write about UFO's very often it is quite possible that a chance will arrive to draw from it and give you some public credit for it yet.

Sincerely,

Arthur Bray Esq.,
