

space ships, yet it seems they have good reasons for believing so. If people are wrong for so believing, they should be given the facts to show this. In my opinion, the government is creating confusion among the public and then sits back while these people are ridiculed by others.

I am of the personal opinion that someone in the government is withholding information which should have been included in the file tabled in the House, and that the state of this file, as tabled, and the value to the public of the missing papers, was misrepresented to you.

I don't know whether anything else can be done about this matter in the House, but I will leave it to your good judgement. You may not even be interested in persuing this any further but I thought you may appreciate this information.

I appreciate your co-operation and assistance very much indeed.

Yours sincerely,

Arthur Bray
