Dear Sir:

I recently wrote to the National Research Council with regard to a 3000 pound mass of metal which was discovered near the town of Les Ecureils, Quebec, around the first of July, 1960. In his reply, Mr. Peter M. Millman of the National Research Council indicated that you know of the location of this specimen.

If possible, I would be greatly interested in obtaining a sample of this material, in order to conduct a metallurgical analysis. Any assistance that you could render in this matter would be greatly appreciated.

Yours very truly,

Craig Sitter
