Dear Bob,

Last evening I had a pleasant phone chat with Stanton Friedman. He asked me to make a further statement on the 27 communications from Admiral Hillenkoetter which you had sent me--a statement which would be explicit to the point of redundancy (and therefore almost impossible to misinterpret). So here it is:

In my opinion, there is no compelling reason to regard any of these communications as fraudulent or to believe that any of them were written by anyone other than Hillenkoetter himself. This statement holds for the controversial presidential briefing memorandum of November 18, 1952, as well as for the letters, both official and personal.

I hope that this rephrasing proves satisfactory. But, if not, give me a call.

Yours sincerely,

Roger
