Dear Mr. Bray:

Just a note to thank you for writing to me. I read and sincerely appreciate every letter coming to me, although often it is impossible for me to reply as promptly as I would like because of the many other demands upon me and my assistants.

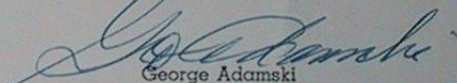

Since my first meeting with a man from Venus, as recounted in FLYING SAUCERS HAVE LANDED, I have had the pleasure of a number of other meetings with both men and women from our sister planets, Mars, Venus and Saturn. During the more than 200 hours that I have spent in their company, I have been granted the privilege of visiting in their ships and of being taken on trips beyond our atmosphere where I could personally observe the constant activity of outer space. And they have told me much of their way of life in comparison to ours on Earth.

All this I have endeavored to share in detail with my fellowmen in my forthcoming book, INSIDE THE SPACE SHIPS, to be published this spring. In here I believe will be found answers to the many questions that have been asked, as well as many yet unthought of. You will be notified of its publication.

The interest and friendship of people in all parts of the world have been most encouraging to me, while their reports of personal sightings, personal contacts, the clippings and other information sent have been of inestimable value. No spot in the world is today being left unvisited by our friends from other worlds, who are traveling space in their mechanical craft as easily, safely and more rapidly than we cross the land or the waters of Earth in our own mechanical airplanes. Their mission is of friendship and help, if we will permit this, but they can be of no service to us as long as we fear them. So let us welcome them in trust and friendship, as you and I would welcome one another.

My best wishes to you in all your ways, and thanks again for writing.

Very sincerely,

George Adamski

SS: Your questions of last August are good and well taken. At the time F S H L was written I did not know the answers to some of them. In further meetings since that time these answers have been given and are included in the forthcoming book I T S S. But may I make one thing clear. . . I only hoped to be able to get exceptionally good photos on that trip. I honestly had no idea that I would make a personal contact. If I had, many things would have been different than they were, even to the choice of people who accompanied me on such a momentous occasion. Earth's scientists are incorrect regarding atmosphere surrounding our neighboring planets.
