Dear Mr. Bray:

An Information Canada Officer has enquired from various government departments as to whether the information you requested in your letter of February 23 is available.

Five departments and agencies were contacted, but no trace of any dormant files on unidentified flying objects could be found.

As you know, receiving UFO reports became the responsibility of the National Research Council in 1968. I understand that you have already inspected the records in the Meteor Centre in the Upper Atmosphere Research Section.

One of Information Canada's functions is to assist the public in obtaining information for which the exact source is not at once apparent. Enquiries are frequently referred to other government agencies better equipped to provide specific information. In your case, the request was referred to National Research Council which has official responsibility for that matter.

I regret not being able to assist you more in this instance.

Sincerely yours,

John Munro
Minister of Labour
