Air Memorandum Number 4, dated 15 February 1949

An object which appeared to resemble a tow target was observed by four (4) F-30 pilots from the steps of the operations building which is located along the ramp at Misawa Air Force Base. The observers agree that the object resembled a tow-target, however, no tow plane was seen. Sighted on 23 August 1949 at 1530 K.

There were three (3) F-6 and five F-30 aircraft airborne at the time of sighting. Personnel flying these aircraft in the area report that they saw no unusual objects.

Anti-aircraft units were contacted and reported that there were no training aids airborne at the time of sighting.

Radar site in the area was inoperative due to routine maintenance.

Observers report that the object could not have been a Japanese kite due to the speed, and also that it definitely was not an aircraft due to its shape.

There are no roads in the area which would allow the object to have been towed from the ground.

U. S. Navy reports that they had no activity in the area at time of sighting.

At approximately 1530 hours on 23 August 1949, the undersigned observed a light or silver-colored rectangular object traveling at an estimated speed of 400 miles per hour. This object did not resemble an aeroplane but appeared identical to a rectangular tow-target.

The object was traveling in a northerly direction at approximately 200 feet altitude or less and paralleling the coast line. This officer was about three miles from the object and observed it during approximately five miles of travel.

This officer was in the company of Maj. [REDACTED], Capt. [REDACTED], and Capt. [REDACTED] on the front steps of the 49th Fighter Group Operations when this sighting was made. Upon my calling attention to this object, these three officers discerned the object immediately and all admitted a confusing lack of recognition.

The object disappeared behind an B-17 parked on the ramp. Shortly thereafter, this officer noticed a local F-80 in the same vicinity at a higher altitude and in the opinion of this officer there was no similarity in appearance or lightness of color to the object in question.
