Q. Any Unusual Meteorological Conditions — Nil.

R. Remarks: I spoke to supervisor at London Air Traffic Control Centre. There have been no sightings reported by pilots and nothing shows on London Radar. He suggested they might be aircraft landing lights from aircraft in holding patter. Called informant back for further info and she stated that lights disappeared at 2120Z Aug 89.

m. Name & address of observer. Section 40 AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL, RAF FARNBOROUGH

m. Other witnesses. Section 40

p. Date & time of report. 19Jun89

Any other pertinent info. I was sleeping lightly in my cave when Section 40 woke me and asked me to look at the object he had been observing for about 5-6 min. It was roughly in the direction where the sky was lightening prior to sunrise. The sun eventually came above the horizon at 0455 hrs local (observed on video monitor) and could be seen through the haze by naked eye at 0510 hrs local.

The position of the object when observed corresponded roughly to when previous observers had reported lights above the horizon.
