On Wednesday, 7 May 1952, four Air Force personnel saw bright metallic objects near Kessler Air Force Base, Mississippi. The objects were traveling at a considerably greater speed than jet aircraft and were followed by a trail. Although no more than one object was seen at a time, a total of ten (10) were estimated to be in the sky. Due to the distance, the size and shape were not known, but to one observer they seemed to be cylindrical in appearance.

1. Observers estimated approximately a total of ten (10) objects were present, although only one or two were visible at any one time. They appeared to be very small cylindrical shaped objects of a bright metallic color such as polished aluminum. One object would suddenly become visible, apparently followed by a trail of some type, and then disappear into the clouds. Sources state these objects traveled at a considerably greater speed than jet aircraft and were definitely not birds or airplanes. These objects were observed for approximately five or ten minutes upon which time they vanished, re-appearing five minutes later in the same vicinity for approximately one minute.

2. Observation was made at approximately 1215 Central Standard Time 7 May 1952.

3. Visual ground observation was made.

4. Observed from the VHF Omni Range site, located twelve (12) miles from the northeast end of the northeast-southwest runway (coordinates, 210° - 30°) at Keesler Air Force Base. The objects were at an approximate magnetic bearing of 30° from the observers. Distance of, the objects were unknown but they appeared to be approximately the same elevation as the base of the cloud layer.

5. The information contained in this report pertains to [REDACTED] all of whom are assigned to the 1st AACS I & A Squadron, Tinker Air Force Base, Oklahoma.

6. (OFFICIAL) Clouds 2000 feet, thin scattered, 10,000 feet thin scattered; visibility 10 miles, sea level pressure 159 / temperature 72° , dew point 68° ; wind southwest, seven knots; altimeter setting 990, smoke layer 2000', thin scattered. Time 1230.

7. Objects were traveling in a straight line heading southeast.

8. There were no fragments or photographs taken.

9. Air Force Form 112 submitted in compliance with existing regulations.

10. Air traffic at the time of the sighting was unknown.

On Wednesday, 7 May 1959 the undersigned, who together with the two other signers of Letter 1, 1959, this time is joined by twelve (12) other crew members, arrived at the "A" station at 10:15. It was approximately 10:15 when attention of the undersigned was called to several objects visible to the eye. The objects were at an approximate distance of 100 feet from the "A" site. It might be mentioned that this was the first time fairly accurately since the area around the "A" station had previously been worked with ether and beam light around the station for use in checking the operation of the station.

On Thursday, 7 May 1962 at about 12:15 the observer observed numerous silver objects in the sky. Some of these were definitely not birds nor birds in flight and were seen in the direction of 30° N. declination. They stayed in one location for about five or ten minutes and then disappeared. In about the same time they returned to the same vicinity and disappeared again. They
