REPORT ON SIGHTING OF UNIDENTIFIED OBJECT
IN SKY OVER WASHINGTON D.C.

Time: 24 August 1952, 3:56 PM, EDT

Place: Southeast section of Washington D.C.

Visibility: Sunny, clear, cloudless. Weather Bureau states wind was blowing from north at that time. at 10 miles per hour at 1000 feet elevation

Description of Sighting. Object was first sighted at azimuth 010 degrees (compass), elevation about 70°. Color was white, like absorbent cotton. Size about 1/2 inch diameter at arm's length distance, shape, approximately round. It travelled southward, passing almost directly overhead, continued in direction 100° until for about 45 seconds, reaching altitude 45°. At this point, it veered sharply east, much more rapidly than any jet or conventional plane could do, then lost more elevation, appearing to travel southeast. Object kept getting smaller, until it disappeared about 10 seconds after veering east. outline not sharp

Remarks. First thought the white color was reflection from the sun on airplane, but it was not glistening the way most planes do in the sunlight. No change in color or shape during entire observation time. No exhaust vapor trail, no sound. Notified Air Force Intelligence at 4:05 P.M.

At no time during observation did the object appear to be attached to anything visible.

10. BRIEF SUMMARY OF SIGHTING White. Round. Changed directions.				11. COMMENTS Source an inexperienced aerial observer. Possible noise of object drowned out by another plane.

A number of other publicized cases listed as "Unknown" were in all probability balloons. Since a probability, however good, is not the same as an established fact, these sightings remain in the Unknown category even though their actual explanation is reasonably certain. Such a case was that near Hermanas, New Mexico, which, like that a few weeks earlier at Hamilton Air Force Base, may have been stimulated by the 1952 saucer panic in Washington (Chapter VII).

On August 24, 1952, an Air Force colonel was flying from California to Georgia in an F-84-G plane at an air speed of about 290 miles an hour. At 10:15 (A.M. M.S.T., when near Hermanas, New Mexico, he observed two round, silvery objects about six feet in diameter some two miles north of him and traveling east at high speed; they showed no trail or exhaust. During the three minutes they were in view, one object suddenly began a right turn while the second accelerated rapidly; they changed in shape and in color, became elongated and gray, and then disappeared. A few minutes later over El Paso, Texas, he saw two similar silvery objects, also traveling east. During the ten minutes they were in view, one object seemed to climb straight up for 2000 or 3000 feet, followed immediately by the second one. Assuming that the same pair of objects was involved in both sightings, the observer concluded that they were going much faster than any plane, and reported the incident to ATIC.

The behavior described is typical of that of balloons. Rising into a new wind stream, they may move rapidly and change their orientation so that they look sausage-shaped instead of round; reflecting the sun at a different angle, they look gray rather than silver. Investigators checked with Biggs Air Force Base, White Sands, and El Paso International Airport; both White Sands and El Paso had released weather balloons at 8:00 that morning which had traveled southeast and burst some time before the sighting at Hermanas. Since no single recorded balloon could account for the sighting, it was listed as Unknown [2].

This inquiry can scarcely be called thorough. Apparently no check was made at Holloman Air Force Base or at more distant bases whose weather balloons might well have traveled into the area. The investigators apparently accepted the pilot's assumption that the objects in the two sightings were identical and were therefore traveling at incredible speeds; yet there was no evidence to support the assumption. It is far more probable that he was observing two sets of objects, not one. The estimates of size, distance, and speed are all uncertain because no fixed reference point existed. The report does not state whether the objects seemed to be above or below the plane, and does not give the exact heading of the objects.

The objects looked and behaved like balloons. Another possibility is that they were fragments from the balloons that had burst earlier; the observer was looking into the sun and could have misinterpreted them. But the explanation of this incident remains unknown because too few facts were determined.
