1/Lt. Andrew L. Wallace, Intelligence Officer C-47 Air Crew Report

Not Applicable

The aircraft commander and observer of C-47 aircraft 4208 reported the following observation:

At 060500 hours a greenish blue pulsating light similar to an exhaust flame was observed for two minutes duration. They estimated it to be approximately two feet in diameter and moving at a speed exceeding 500 M.P.H. in the opposite direction of their aircraft, roughly paralleling its flight path at a distance of twenty-five miles. The C-47 was following a magnetic heading of 240° and the heading of the object was estimated to be between 70° and 90° magnetic heading. The altitude of the C-47 was 10,000 feet and the altitude of the object appeared to be between 18 and 20 thousand feet. The weather was CATV with no moon. The location of the observation was 50 miles east of Winslow, Arizona in the vicinity of Holbrook.

The pilot contacted the GAA station at Winslow and reported the observation. GAA called back that their radar equipment was unable to track the unidentified object. After a short radio silence the station again contacted the pilot and stated that the GAA station at Zuni reported the same observation.

The aircraft commander was 1/Lt. Colonel James M. Hayes Jr., Sq Sq, 22d Bomb Wing, and the observer was Major George Tins, 41st Bomb Sq, 320th Bomb Wing.

Comments of the Preparing Officer

Because of the head-on paths of flight, this object would not appear to be a normal jet exhaust.
