INVESTIGATOR'S SUMMARY

1. A check of the Central Operations Center, GCHQ, Cambridge, Air, has indicated a negative results in terms of Hqs, Ctr, and Section intercepts reports.

2. Base Section at both Cambridge Air and Seattle Air also indicated negative reports.

3. Hq 1 - Hq 1 Air Support Gp, Hq 1 Air Det 31 stated that they had no follow-up findings that date. Their last operations at Seattle Air are operations on or before Seattle Air and Cambridge Air had been involved in base findings in the past for months.

4. Since indications still pointed to the possibility that these objects were of a balloon launching nature, attempts were made to conduct the 1st night operation out of Cambridge Research Unit. It was determined that a plan for the operation on that night (Dec 15-16, 1954) was coordinated through the Cambridge Research Unit, 45025 AIRC, and the 1st Air Det 31. On 15 Dec 54, Hq 1 Air Det 31, Cambridge, Air, was the support section of the Cambridge Research Group, operating out of Hq 1 Air Det 31. This information on last previous operations at Seattle Air. This information was contained in the office of Dec 2, 45025 AIRC, Cambridge Air, in the previous positive results.

5. Hq 1 - Seattle stated that he and other members of his group (present during the interview) had participated in balloon launching on or before Seattle Air and over the State of Washington, on the night of 3 Dec 54. This was a special project and did not involve Hq 1 - Hq 1 Air Support Gp (see para 2 above). He further stated that he was positive that this was the object(s) seen by the other persons listed in the summary report of this investigation. The summary report stated a lead was written up at the time in the Seattle Research Unit regarding the above stated of the investigation as published. Since that time, however, that the findings had been officially reported as a U.S. they did not notify anyone of the activity.

6. ACTIONS OF RESEARCH OFFICE

The members of Project 1101, located in the past, should have been a copy of the preliminary report of these little and were instructed to their offices that these findings were the two findings in which they had a participation. Since their activities are of a classified nature, no further details of these were released.

All indications, especially the designation of a balloon with Hq 1, have heavily on the conclusion that the U.S. are the launchers of the Cambridge Research Unit.

Future findings will be more closely coordinated with the 45025 AIRC units in this area in the future.
