SUBJECT: 10020 AISS

Part 1 Description of Sighting by Lt. [REDACTED]

My name is [REDACTED] My home address is [REDACTED] Fontana, California. I am a flight engineer in the Aerophysics Division, North American Aviation Inc.

At approximately 1135 to 1145 on 23 February 1955, Lt. [REDACTED] and myself were about 100 yards southeast of the West Range (#3-200). I started at the time as I usually do to observe what is flying in the area, and noticed two objects travelling to the north at a rate of speed approximately four times as fast as anything I have ever seen before. Their direction of movement besides the speed was the same as the wind, which appeared to be blowing from the northwest. They resembled the "Star" However the direction of flight was backward. In other words, the object was flying in the reverse direction from the normal flight. The size compared with that of a medium bomber, the color was silvery.

I first observed the object (2) at approximately a 45 degree elevation to the north and estimated their altitude at 30,000 feet. The most peculiar object was probably slightly lower in altitude, maybe 5,000 feet. It made an extremely rapid descending turn from 10,000 feet to about 15,000 feet and then continued to the north. The object to the east disappeared a few seconds prior to the first object mentioned. Both objects were in sight no longer than 30 seconds, probably closer to 20 seconds.

Just prior to the descending turn, a third object flew horizontally and between the two objects. It was heading towards the east. This gave me an opportunity to confirm that the fact that the unidentified objects were travelling at a much faster rate of speed than normal aircraft. The two objects did not make any sound or leave any vapor or exhaust trail. However, the third object flying to the east did leave a contrail. When the two objects were first observed they were moving at an angle of 15 degrees north to south. Their disappearance was caused by the fact that they became so small to be visible in the distance that they disappeared. The weather conditions were clear, blue sky and very little haze. In general good visibility.

I certify that the above is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

II. INFORMATION

SOURCE appeared to be sincere and was very cooperative. However, some of the statements made by the SOURCE indicated that he might have a good imagination. I.e. SOURCE stated the object was traveling approximately 3,000 mph at an altitude high enough to pass over the tops of all of a jet stream operating in the vicinity. SOURCE stated that he believed the object was constructed with metal more like aluminum than aluminum alloy. SOURCE was considered to be fairly reliable.

COMMENTS of Reporting Officer:

1. It is the opinion of the Reporting Officer that this sighting was the result of a reflection caused by a temperature inversion.
2. This opinion was formed on the strength of the following reasons:
 - a. A temperature inversion was present at the time of the sighting. (Refer to paragraphs 5 and 6, Part Three of this report.)
 - b. With the exception of one (1) F-4 and two (2) C-47s, no aircraft could be placed in the vicinity of EDWARDS AFB at the time of the sighting.
 - c. The observations paralleled more closely the type of sightings attributed to optical phenomena than any other.

CHARLES HAMMOND, JR.
1st Lt. USAF
Officer in Charge

COMMENTS of Approving Officer:

1. This Headquarters was consulted with the AFM Northern Consultation Service on this sighting and we cannot concur with the opinion of the Reporting Officer that sighting was caused by a temperature inversion, for the following reasons:
 - a. The angle of sighting was probably too great for observation to be a reflection.
 - b. Reflection characteristics are such that it is highly improbable that a definite shape, including such as a distinguishing mark as were reported in this case, would be seen.
 - c. The observer's estimate of the size and shape of the object in relation to the distance from the point of observation, are not reliable.
 - d. Temperature inversions by themselves are not conducive to optical phenomena. There was no indication of water vapor dust or other substance in the vicinity of the sighting which, in conjunction with a temperature inversion, may have caused this particular sighting.
2. This report is forwarded to AFM as unresolved.
