10. BRIEF SUMMARY OF SIGHTING Round objt, bright blue-white with a faint tail or glow, looking like a comet not in motion. Disappeared as daylight not brighter. Tail 4 times width of objt, 30° above horizon at 030° azimuth. Appeared stationary.			11. COMMENTS Objt reported has all characteristics of a comet. Science News Weekly of 5 August 61 reports that a new Comet was discovered on 23 July in position reported by many of the witnesses, it is, therefore, concluded that these are observations of the comet.

C O M E T

A BRIGHT NEW COMET WAS DISCOVERED BY MR A. [REDACTED]
OF SEATTLE, WASHINGTON ON 23 JULY 1961. THIS COMET CAN BE SEEN WITH THE UNAIDED EYE. IT HAS A WELL DEFINED NUCLEUS
AND A TAIL COVERING ABOUT 25 DEGREES. IT ALSO HAS AN ANTI-
TAIL. IT IS OF 4TH MAGNITUDE, IS VISIBLE IN THE CONSTELLATION
GEMINI, THE TWINS, TO THE WEST OF CASTOR AND POLLUX LOW ON THE NORTHEASTERN HORIZON AND HOUR OR LESS BEFORE SUNRISE. ON 26 JULY 61 IT'S POSITION WAS 6h 49m R.A., AND PLUS 33 DEGREES
27' DECLINATION AS REPORTED BY DR. G. VAN BIESBROECK OF YERKES OBSERVATORY.

INITIAL REPORT: INFORMATION IS HEARSAY AND NOT SPECIFIC IN DETAIL.

(3) A CHECK WITH CHADS WEATHER STATION DISCLOSED THE RELEASE OF NUMEROUS BALOONS AT 100Z BY SPRINGFIELD, PEORIA, ST LOUIS, TERRE HAUTE, DAYTON, AND OTHER WEATHER AGENCIES IN THE AREA OF LOUISVILLE.

A STRONG POSSIBILITY EXISTS THAT THE SIGHTING COULS HAVE BEEN A WATHER BALOON RELEASED FROM A STATION WEST OF LOUISVILLE. THIS, IN CONJUCTION WITH A WESTERLY FLOW OF AIR ACROSS THE SECTOR COULD HAVE POSITIONED A BALOON IN THE IMMEDIATE AREA OF LOUISVILLE AT THE TIME
OF THE SIGHTING. CHADS WEATHER STATION CONFIRMED A WESTERQ FLOW UP
WOND AT ANA ALTITUDE BELOW 80,000 FT. L. NONE. M. PILOT
OF DC-8 STATED THE OBJECT MIGHT BE AN OBJECT IN SPACE.

CASE
FROM
JULY

SAUCER "FLAP" IN PENNSYLVANIA: It seems that saucers are still being seen as often as ever in some sections of the country, though the newspapers do not usually give them such big write-ups as they used to. On July 24th, Mrs. Anthony Paone of Lower Makefield, Pa., near Bristol, was looking out the window of her bedroom when she saw a lighted object "coming right at me." After a moment it disappeared, and another UFO came by. Mrs. Paone described the objects as "the same color as the moon, round, with no tail, although both had a smoky streak following after them." They made no noise. On the night of the 25th, six residents of Bristol saw a UFO blinking a giant red light at them. Mrs. Helen Hammet was the first to spot it. The UFO made several erratic movements in the sky, and finally stopped abruptly over the home of one of her neighbors. A similar sighting was made later the same night. The incident was reported to Edwin F. Bailey, assistant director of the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia, who admitted he was baffled.
