k. Lt. Colonel W.W. Deane, Chief, Intelligence Division. I interviewed Mr. Brown on the evening of 27 July 1964. Following the interview I felt that my preliminary analysis was essentially correct. However, thirty minutes after I left Mr. Brown he phoned me to say he had seen a similar object. But prior to calling me he had called a friend who worked for the U.S. Weather Bureau in Little Rock to ask about their weather balloons. He was advised they release one at 2300 zulu each day and he now thought that may have been what he had seen previously. I called the Weather Bureau to confirm this fact. Upon secondary analysis, using the winds aloft report cited in my message, it is believed that the object was, in fact, a meteorological balloon which had been released from Adams Field located SW of the observer's position. The winds would have drifted the balloon to the NE until reaching an extremely high altitude at which time it would have been blown toward the SW.

THIS TIME. (K) CHIEF INTELLIGENCE DIVISION 384TH BWG. INITIAL ASSESSMENT IS THAT THE SUNLIGHT REFLECTING OFF THE AIRCRAFT CAUSED A PHENOMANA THAT APPEARED TO THE OBSERVER A SOLID OBJECT AT FIRST, AND
THE OBJECT APPEARING TO BREAK-UP WAS CAUSED BY SUN STRIKING AIRCRAFT
AT DIFFERENT ANGLES THUS CAUSING TWO REFLECTIONS RATHER THAN THE ONE.
OBSERVER SAYS HE LOST ONE PART BUT FOLLOWED THE OTHER UNTIL IT DISAPPEARED. THIS, IT IS BELIEVED WAS THE REFLECTION FOLLOWING AIRCRAFT. THE ONE THAT DISAPPEARED WAS DUE TO LOSS OF LIGHT REFLECT-ION AS AIRCRAFT MOVED. L. NEGATIVE.
