COMMENT: Observer was a 15 year old student. Student had been staring through scope approximately 1 hour before sighting. Power of telescope was only 200X. This reporter feels the power of telescope and short duration of sighting is not sufficient to see object land on moon.

Dear Sir:

I have just located my misfiled notes of August 11, 1965. On that day 2330 hours I observed ECHO travelling from South to North about 85 degrees above the Eastern horizon-- in the sky just west of Cassiopeia.

At 2345 hours I observed UFO travelling West to East about 85 degrees above the Northern horizon. Rate of travel about 40 seconds to travel 50 degrees of arc.

I was familiar with ECHO having observed it many times the past three years. This UFO was not as bright and seemed to be travelling much faster than ECHO which I had just observed fifteen minutes before.

Position of observer: five miles south of 42 degrees 36 minutes N and 88 degrees 28 minutes West.

The above just for the record.

Yours truly,

COMMENT: It is my opinion that the object Mr [REDACTED] saw was a late model jet type aircraft making an approach for landing on runway 22L or 22R at Chicago's Midway airport. These runways are in an almost direct line with Mr [REDACTED]'s observation point. His description of the altitudes, sound and course of the object would tend to confirm this in my mind.

WINDS: Cyclonic circulation over NW Wisc., starting at 35000 extending into the Tropopause.

Jet stream entering Northern British Columbia going East to Saskatchewan into North Dakota to Arkansas thru Tennessee to the border of South Carolina then to sea 33° latitude then up thru the Eastern portion of the U.S. 37° 70' then Northeast to Greenland. 300MB & 200MB.

COMMENT: While interviewing Mr. [REDACTED] my impression was that he wasn't one given to "flights of fancy". He told his story straight and to the point with little or no hesitation. At first he asked if we knew of any satellite that would have been in the area of observation at the time of the observation. In my opinion the coloration of the reported object would discount an aircraft but could possibly have indicated a satellite.

4. NUMBER OF OBJECTS One
5. LENGTH OF OBSERVATION 30 Seconds	11. BRIEF SUMMARY AND ANALYSIS Oval object sharp on end, silver color, slowing down apparent to moon landing. Had exhaust for 5-10 seconds. Disappeared by fading.
6. TYPE OF OBSERVATION Ground-Visual(200X TX)
7. COURSE Object landing on Moon	COMMENTS: Observer had been looking through TX for over one hour. 200 X Telescope would not give sufficient visibility to see object land on moon unless extremely large. No other reports from reliable astronomers who watch or monitor moon studies of this reported event. Evaluated as imagination due to fatigue caused by long period of observation.
