

PROJECT 10073 RECORD

1. DATE - TIME GROUP 4 August 65 05/0500Z	2. LOCATION Martinez, California
3. SOURCE Civilian	10. CONCLUSION Transf. data - pos. status Astro (ARCTURUS/VEGA) Object at 80 deg elevation on Western horizon observed for several hours. Vega at 80 deg elevation. ARCTURUS setting at 2245. Only one object observed by sheriff official.
4. NUMBER OF OBJECTS One, 6-7	11. BRIEF SUMMARY AND ANALYSIS Blinking yellow light with erratic motion. One large light with 6 smaller blue lights. Essentially there is insufficient data for evaluation. The duration and positional data is missing. The sighting is characteristic of an Astro Body distorted by conditions in the atmosphere such as an inversion. The sheriff department official indicated that the object was high in the West. Also it would take some matter of minutes for the officer to arrive and no mention of disappearance is reported. It is assumed that the object was still there and the case evaluated as a probable Star/Planet observation, VEGA or ARCTURUS being the most likely.
