Gentlemen:

I would like to report the tentative sighting of a flying unidentified object at approximately 4:45 A.M. on the morning of April 12, 1966, near Tichnor, Arkansas. We first saw the object while driving southward from Dewitt on State Highway 130 between 4:45 and 5:00 A.M. Later in the morning, about 6:30, it appeared to be stationary over (approximately) Section 18, R1W, T65 - approximately 91° 07' Longitude and 34° 07' Latitude.

I am not reporting this as a hoax or for any type of publicity or recognition. Insofar as I know, this should be considered as a reliable source of information. I have been working for the Soil Conservation Service, USDA, as a geologist for 8 years. If you wish to check further, I was in Army Intelligence (ASA) from 1952 until 1955. My serial number was RA14439404. My son, [REDACTED] U.S. Navy, serial number 350 78 25, was with me at the time and made the same observations.

We were on our way to LaGrue Bayou for a turkey hunt, and we were both very sober. Driving southward and looking eastward there was a solid cloud cover over that portion of the sky. I suppose the clouds were cirrocumulus or strato-cumulus clouds in a relatively thin, but complete, blanket. Strangely enough, it looked as if there was a bright star between the ground and the cloud cover, almost as high as the clouds. The cloud blanket was very high, and the atmosphere was very clear between the ground and the clouds. We were amazed, the cloud coverage would have obscured the vision of any star beyond the clouds. Later on, when we noticed it again at about 6:30 A.M. it was backed by a smaller separate cirrus cloud. The main body of the cloud coverage had broken up by that time.

(Serial 164)
Need more info on direction of sighting from

It was bright like a star or a light, but too far away to notice any sort of a shape, and the light from the object was strong and steady. After the sun rose I did not see it again. The light from the object seemed to be somewhat stronger than the light reflected by Venus. The object appeared to be stationary each time we saw it. Had it not been for the cloud coverage behind it, I probably would have dismissed it as an unusually bright star or planet.

[REDACTED] is presently on duty in the Navy on the U.S.S. Princeton. However, I live in North Little Rock, Arkansas, and would be glad to answer any questions that you may have about this incident. But please - No publicity. I have no idea of the correct way to present this case to you through normal procedure, so I have taken the liberty to report it in this fashion. I do feel that the incident was odd enough to justify reporting it.

Sincerely yours
[REDACTED]
